Hey Kay!! thanks for looking!!

You and a few others have noticed

In reality I feel that I have TRUELY SET A NEW STANDARD--(maybe a new world wide standard in fact!) FOR A FAMILY TREE WEBSITE

You seem to agree!!

The unbelievable part is that I constructed this site in only 90 days! WOW! of course that was working 80 hours week or more!! obsession?!

I gather that your browsers are PDF Enabled??

had you looked recently enough that on the Pierce Genealogy book PDF on the pdf library page----- has the bookmarks for navigation?? that makes its even nicer!!

I hated the stale static sites I keep seeing on the net. They all look the same-- hi my relatives are bla bla bla (very short) and here is the gedcom to html index to click on.....

this type of site tells you nothing!!!! names and dates.....I wanted some way to get that living breathing essence of family history into my site, and that is through a more narrative format and the use of pdf.

I am so very lucky that both counties where my relatives lived worked very hard on history books in the 1970's, and that they allowed me to reprint all the biographies that our families submitted.

and of course the Joel J Pierce mystery is especially interesting.

of course as stated in the dedication I have my mother to blame she was on the Historical association of my county for many years, and her dad was born on a wagon on the way from the battle of Wounded Knee (her great grand father owned the trading post there) to beaver county OK. (TX OK Panhandle)

When she died 5 years ago I realized no one was going to do this genealogy on my pierce family. She had been bugging me about it for 10-12 years!!

The web site has really come together. Still have a few more things to do...

thanks for writing and lets stay in touch Help Me promote my site

Lets get your research in a pdf book which can be distributed on the net (or sold)

I make people pay only if they desire to print mine. I dont know if you noticed that most all of the pdf books are non printable non editable!!

write soon!!

tonight added new photo of my great great grandfather peg leg pierce to my site

It was hard in talking my dad into letting me take it for a few days!!

again stay in touch
